In this session we will discuss miscommunications, filters and destructive griping which will lead us to part 3 in solving the problems of conflict.

Discovery Bible Study

A new class will meet each Sunday at 9:30 a.m. in D208, the upstairs Building D conference room (former MUP conference room). This class will focus on a reproducible process which has helped launch Disciple-Making Movements across the US and around the world. We will mutually equip each other in this class to either start Bible studies in our neighborhoods or to start disciple groups in the immediate neighborhood of the church. You can either participate in this class for several weeks to be equipped with this process (and return to your class) or you can become a member of this class. Kent and Erika Parks (and others in our church) will facilitate the class.

The Reason for God Small Group

New York Times bestselling author, Timothy Keller, brings together faith, intellect, theology, popular culture, and modern-day objections to historic Christian beliefs. Captured live and unscripted, Keller meets with a group of people each session to address their doubts, questions, and resistance to Christianity. In this six-session adult small group study, we will learn how to engage others in a caring and non-judgmental dialog on six common objections to Christianity We will meet on Wednesday evenings from 6:15-7:15 p.m. in room B201.
